Woman Assaulted in Home

On 11-4-07 at approximately 6:49 AM, the Police Department responded to the Friguglietti St. after a 33 year old female reported she was awoken after she felt something touching her. She awoke to find an unknown white male adult wearing a short sleeve white t-shirt and a white baseball cap or bandana kneeling next to her bed. The suspect touched her inappropriately before running out of the home. Officers searched the area but were unable to locate the suspect. It appears as though the suspect may have entered the home through an unlocked door.

“This is a poignant reminder that locking doors and using alarms is necessary. As we continue to investigate this incident, I encourage everyone to always double check doors and windows before going to bed at night.”

Chris Gallagher, Chief of Police
